

Figure 13-7 The southern part of the Roman Camp scheduled monument. Looking southwest, from the minor road that passes through the monument, towards the PEA which is not visible

Figure 13-8 Looking south towards the northern part of the PEA from the southwestern corner of the southern part of the Roman Camp scheduled monument. The PEA is beyond the second/distant hedge and movement of machinery may be visible where there are gaps in both hedges

Figure 13-9 View from outside the hedge on the northwest boundary of the PEA towards the southern part of the scheduled Roman camp, which is behind the full length of the hedge in the background. This hedge is visible in Figure 13-7 and in the foreground of Figure 13-8

Figure 13-10 The hedge on the northern boundary of the PEA, looking east from the northwest corner of the PEA. Sections of this hedge are visible in the distance in Figure 13-8

Figure 13-11 Tall well-established trees on the western edge of the curtilage of Horstead Lodge screening views to the PEA. The road shown is the B1150.

Figure 13-12 Looking westwards from where the entrance drive to Horstead Lodge meets the B1150. The PEA is in the distance, beyond the grass field concealed by the hedge.

Figure 13-13 Looking west southwest at Stanninghall Farm Barn (right), from a track to the northeast. Other farm buildings and the roof of Stanninghall Farm House are on the left.

Figure 13-14 Looking northeast from a track to the northeast of Stanninghall Barn, towards the existing quarry. The grass and planted bund on the southwest of the existing quarry is visible centre background across the width of the photograph but merges well into landscape

Figure 13-15 Tree belt (left) and hedge (right) beside the B1150, both of which block views from the PEA (not visible, to the right of the hedge) towards Heggatt Hall.

Figure 13-16 Looking east towards the PEA (not visible), from ground level, next to the south porch at the Church of St Swithin, Frettenham. Glebe Farm House is visible through the trees.

Figure 13-17 View from the road on the western side of the PEA, looking west along a footpath towards the Church of St Swithin, Frettenham. The top of the church tower is just visible above the top of trees (marked with an arrow).

Figure 13-18 Existing tall hedge on the western side of the PEA, looking southwest along the road on western side of PEA. The hedge is 3-4m tall and blocks views from the PEA towards the Church of St Swithin.

Figure 13-19 Frettenham Cornmill, from the southeast. The fourth-floor (uppermost) window has a view of the current quarry and may have an oblique, long-distance views of the PEA, although largely blocked by Clamp Wood.

Figure 13-20 The tower of Frettenham Cornmill, from the east southeast at Stanninghall Street (arrowed). The grass and planted bund on the southwest of the current quarry is visible centre right.